

Unbelievable Convenience

Amazing Performance

Denon's One Cable Connection

All Denon AVR90 series AV receivers provide the ultimate in convenience by accepting all types of video signals from any source and converting them all to one convenient HDMI signal.

This means that with this great feature you will only need to select one AV input on your television and your Denon AV receiver will not only switch the sound going to your speakers but will also switch the picture going to your television

